Parla Soleil's new single 'Drizzle & Flood' seamlessly fuses flirty Neo-Soul with enchanting oriental elements. The track radiates a sunny, laid-back energy and offers a first taste of her upcoming EP. Dreamy retro synth sounds create an atmospheric sonic landscape, while playful percussive elements and a bouncy bass add to its dynamic texture. The darbuka and oriental vocal melodies scattered throughout enhance the track's Eastern-inspired vibe. Together, these elements contribute to the feel-good energy that the song exudes. Her lyrics explore the ebbs and flows of love, describing how her doubts were washed away when she embraced a new relationship. It's a true celebration of the transformative power of trust.

The echo of the Orient and Occident runs in Parla Soleil's blood and music. With Austrian, Spanish, Turkish and Danube Swabian influences, her passionate, vibrant performances guide listeners through an emotional rollercoaster. Previously, she tested the musical waters as Air of Jasmine, collaborating with Rap/Hip Hop, Jazz and Techno artists, including Kaul Kwappen, Movski, Selecta Bence and Milkman. She made her radio debut with the songs 'Zombie Boy' on Austria's alternative radio station FM4 and 'Golden Hour' on BBC Radio 1Xtra.

Lyrics

Verse:

Days and months are passing by
While time stands still
As we ride this wave I'm wondering
What the fuck is happening

Pre-Chorus:

'Cause I got
So damn, so damn close
To shutting off for good
And after so many dates
Better off a lone wolf

Chorus:

As you shower me with tenderness
Time flows away
First a drizzle, then a flood
The shower carries my doubts away

Verse:

But I can be sceptical
Gotta put you to the test
Sorta waiting for the mask to fall
There's gotta be a catch

Pre-Chorus:

'Cause I got
So damn, so damn close
To shutting off for good
And after so many dates
Better off a lone wolf

Chorus:

As you shower me with tenderness
Time flows away
First a drizzle, then a flood
The shower carries my doubts away

Bridge:

As you, as you, as you shower me
Time flows, flows, it flows away (x4)

Chorus:

As you shower me with tenderness
Time flows away
First a drizzle, then a flood
The shower carries my doubts away
